Legion Auxiliary is Taking Active Part in Defense Projects

Work of the Antioch American Legion Auxiliary in furthering the national defense efforts was summarized by Mrs. Frank Harden in a report on "Americanism and National Defense" given at a meeting of the Tenth District auxiliary Wednesday, Nov. 17, in the American Legion hall in Waukegan.

Mrs. Harden reported that the Antioch unit has 302 hours of service to its credit in Red Cross work; has purchased a $500 bond; assisted in bond drives and in the National Relief drive; has made cookies for the U. S. O. in North Chicago; assisted on rationing boards at the Antioch grade school; assisted the Antioch Legion in sponsoring an Armistice Day program at Antioch High school, and sponsored an essay contest, "Why I Would Like to Be a WAC." Billie Maye Runyard was announced as winner of the latter.

News of the Boys in Service

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Brandt of Chicago, members of the News "family" for many years, send a copy of a poem, "Slipstream," by Ens. R. E. Brandt—

It's hell on earth and heaven too
It's fear of death and pain;
It's boredom and exciting, lad;
It's full of work and strain.

An instructor never has the time
To say it's his alone;
That "kaydet" has the floor all day
And fills your mind at home.

He raises hell o'er earth and sky,
He stands you on the tail;
He scrapes the wings and cracks the gear,
He's bound to make you pale.

You may have thought you've had a thrill,
But, brother, wait for this:
If you can cut a gun and smile,
A dog fight will be bliss.

You'll curse and swear and plot and plan;
You'll sweat and bleed and die;
You'll lose your grin, your teeth, your hair,
To put a fighter high.

For glory you can read a book,
For fun you turn to drink;
Your glamor's lost in folds of gear
That's full of grease and stink.

If you take a moment's rest
And drop your watchful guard,
The wife can tell the boys how nice
It was to send the card.

You pick up friends in baskets when
They've lost their luck and lives.
You grit your teeth and shine your shoes
And tell it to their wives.

But someone must relay the dope
From dawn 'til day is done.
Yes, someone must, so why not you
Until the battle's won.

Don't mind the strain, the greying hair,
Don't mind your bloodshot eyes,
They black you out today,
Tomorrow rule the skies.

If swear you will and holler too,
When you'd much rather sing;
And sigh when you're about to scream
As Dilbert scrapes a wing.

You know he's like to crush your head
And break your every bone,
With some damn fool maneuver that
He thought of on his own.

But still you'll fight and take a bite
Of lips that feel like plush;
You'll twist and squirm and scream and drool
When pull-ups start to mush.

But work like hell, my brother rat,
And smile until you die.
Keep sweating, swearing, daring death,
Put pilots in the sky.

And when they finally spin you in
You won't give in to pain;
You'll know you were the best, by God
That ever flew a plane.

Navy Yards Seek Skilled Tradesmen for Civilian Jobs

Expansion of the civilian recruiting program for skilled tradesmen to work at United States Naval Shore Establishments is announced by the Navy Recruiting Service, which is co-operating with the Civil Service Commission in the procurement of qualified men to serve in key civilian war jobs.

Openings in several classifications are available under the expanded program at four west coast Navy yards and two ammunition depots in that area. Among the tradesmen urgently needed are boilermakers, machinists, pipefitters, riggers, sheetmetal workers, shipfitters, welders, general helpers and senior laborers.

Naval Shore Establishment workers retain their civilian status and receive all civil service benefits. They receive transportation to the point of employment at government expense and adequate housing is available. Men now employed in essential war work must secure a release from their employer or a statement of availability from the War Manpower Commission.

Jobs are available at Mare Island Navy Yard, Hunter's Point Naval Drydocks and Terminal Island Navy Yard in California; Puget Sound Navy Yard, Bremerton, Washington; the Naval Ammunition Depot, Hawthorne, Nevada, and the Naval Supply Depot, Clearfield, Utah. Full information may be obtained from U. S. Navy Recruiting substation, Room 33, Post Office building, Waukegan, any Monday or Tuesday from 1 to 5 and 7 to 9 p. m.

October Jobless Claims, Payments Reach Record Low

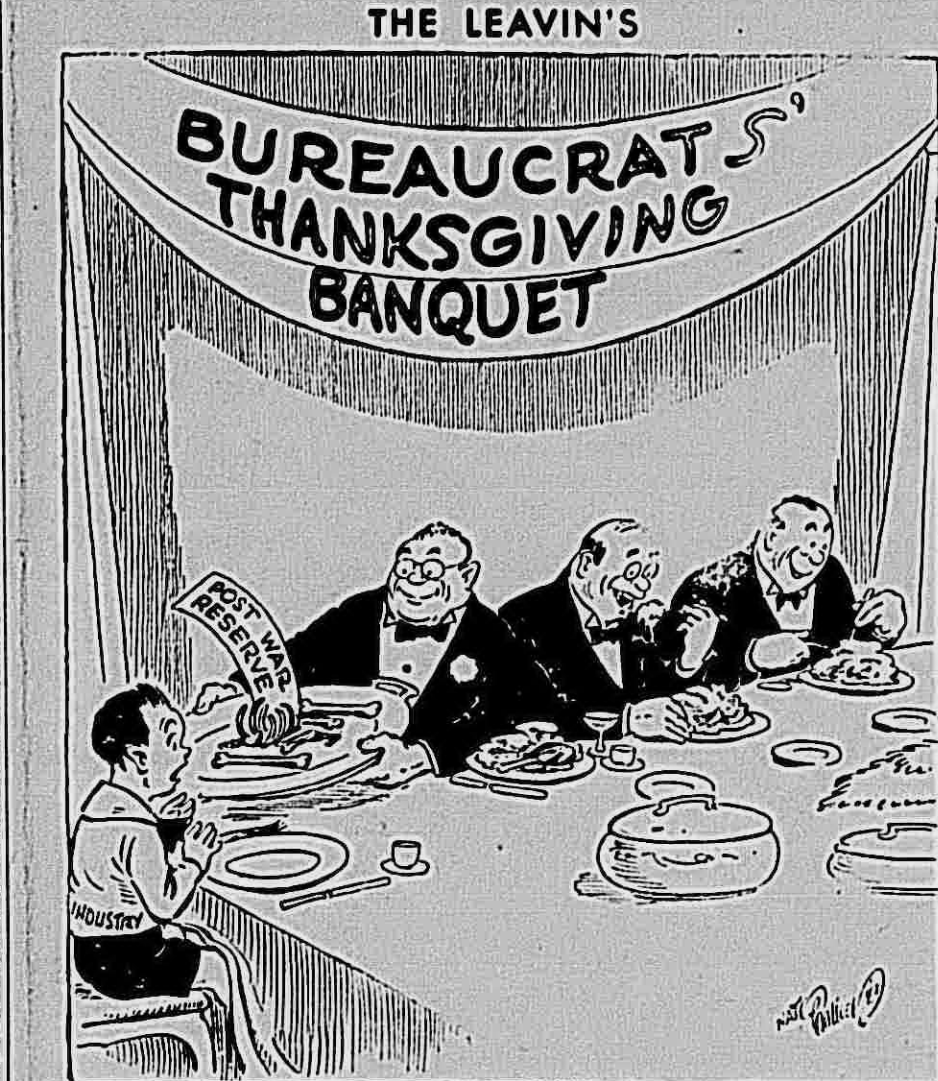

Holding the downward pace set early this year, unemployment compensation payments dipped to a new low in October, State Director of Labor Francis B. Murphy announced today.

"Total payments of $368,945.50 were 82.52 per cent below the figures for October, 1942," said Director Murphy, "and 32 per cent lower than the previous low record established in September."

"In the number of payments issued, October set another low record. Against 161,954 payments in the same month of last year, only 25,531 were made in October, 1943. These benefits were paid to 6,138 workers."

"Although employment is at peak, there will always be seasonal unemployment in certain lines," Murphy added. "These layoff periods are incidental to the occupation itself. Then, too, there are layoffs due to material shortages, even in essential industries. Termination or delayed renewal of war contracts is another factor in the present situation."

"The apparent inconsistency of unemployment in times of peak employment and manpower shortage is quite understandable when these facts are considered: It is doubtful whether, even under stress of war, 100 per cent of all employables at all times, or the complete absence of unemployment, can be attained."

Election of AAA Committee to Be Held Dec. 3

Lake county AAA community committees will be elected for 1944 at meetings to be held on December 3, starting at 8:00 p. m., according to an announcement made by C. A. Faulkner, AAA chairman.

Townships and places of the meetings will be as follows:
Lake Villa and Antioch townships—Antioch high school.
Newport and Benton townships—Rosecrans district school.

Warren and Waukegan townships—Legion Hall, Gurnee.
Avon and Grant townships—Farmers' Hall, Grayslake.
Libertyville and Shields townships—Hawthorn school.
Vernon and Deerfield townships—Halfday town hall.

An explanation of the 1944 program will also be given at this meeting, and delegates to the county convention will be elected. These delegates will meet at the county AAA office in Grayslake on December 4, at 10:00 a. m., to elect the 1944 county committee.

Any farmer participating or cooperating in the 1943 agricultural conservation program under the allotment, soil conserving, conservation materials and services, potato or truck crop provisions, federal crop insurance program or sugar program is eligible to vote, Faulkner states.

"Boys in Service" Display is Shown at Williams Store

A glimpse of some of the work the Antioch American Legion is doing on behalf of the boys in the armed service is given in a window display to be seen at the Williams department store.

The mailing list of nearly 500 names of service men who are receiving the Antioch News through co-operation of the Legion and the newspaper; files of names of service men from this area, a few of the hundreds of letters and cards received from them; mounts of pictures and snapshots—these are some of the features of the display.

The exhibit was arranged by John L. Horan, who devotes many hours each week to work on the mailing lists and files. Horan is preserving letters and cards written by those in service to the Legion and to the News. This correspondence is destined to go into scrap books, and should be an exceedingly interesting collection in years to come.

The mounts of pictures and snapshots are displayed through the courtesy of Morris Pickus of the Antioch Liquor store, who began his collection a couple of years ago. He is anxious to add as many pictures as he can, and relatives who have extra prints of pictures may leave them at the Liquor store, at Williams', or at the Antioch News office.

Citizens Are Asked to File Reports on All Property Holdings Abroad

Citizens of Antioch who own any property in foreign countries were notified by Postmaster Roy I. Kufalk today that they must file reports of their foreign holdings with the treasury department before Dec. 1. The notice was given by means of a poster placed on display in the post office.

Postmaster Kufalk points out that it is necessary for the government to have as complete information as possible on the American stake abroad to assist the military authorities and the civilian governments on the fighting fronts and to bring about sound solutions of the post-war problems.

Report forms, known as TFR-500, may be obtained through commercial banks, or from the nearest Federal Reserve Bank, the postmaster states. Penalties are provided for those who wilfully fail to file reports.

Camp Livingston, La. (AP)—The camp newspaper recently undertook "to explain the more subtle meanings of the language of official communications," thus:

"You will show him every courtesy" means: His uncle is a general.

"You will take necessary action": It's your headache now.

"You will remember": I have forgotten.

"For your immediate action": Do something quick, before we both get in trouble.

Highway crews were out bright and early Monday morning rolling out snow fences and setting them up at strategic points, on guard against any snow, flurries the north wind may blow up one of these days.

The value of the highway workers as guardians of public convenience and safety may be gauged in just a tiny degree by observing the fact that there were no accidents of any kind in townships where the crews had sanded the highways at hills and crossings during a recent light snowfall, whereas there was one fatality, several persons were laid up with injuries—in some cases requiring hospital care—and there were a number of cars damaged in townships where these precautions had not been taken.

If it were not for the reduced speeds brought about by war-time regulations, the toll would have been much higher.

Many Tributes From Fellow Journalists Honor H. B. Gaston

Tributes in newspapers of other cities and villages of northern Illinois and southern Wisconsin, and in the metropolitan press have testified during the past week to the esteem in which Homer Byron Gaston, editor of the Antioch News who passed away Tuesday morning, Nov. 16, was held.

Many personal messages of regret have also been received by the members of the family, including his wife, Mrs. Margaret Estelle (Durling) Gaston, and eldest son, Howard Kelly Gaston, both of whom have been associated with him in the management of the paper here for many years.

In the impressive services conducted in the Strang funeral home Friday afternoon, the Rev. Philip T. Bohl, D. D., of Kansas City, Mo., who knew him during the 17 years he was editor of the News and during previous years when he was publisher of the Richmond Gazette, spoke of him as distinguished by "an extraordinary sense of justice," and who "was ready at all times to help in matters which he believed were right."

Many relatives and friends journeyed from considerable distances to attend the services.

Members of the family and immediate relatives who were called here included two sons in the service, Harold Gaston, Pr. 2/c, White Plains, N. Y.; Robert Gaston, AMM 3/c, Glenview, Ill.; Mr. and Mrs. Herschel R. Gaston, Ottawa, Ill.; Mrs. Elizabeth Behler and son, Glenn, Woodstock, Ill.; Cpl. From the National Fertilizer association, Executive Office, Washington, D. C.,

One of our many friends just sent us a copy of "The Antioch News" for July 29, 1943 containing the very interesting editorial "Hauling Out the Gold." We appreciate very much your very good understanding of the importance of fertilizer for increased agricultural production. Back in 1938 fertilizer was responsible for 15 percent of the value of all our agricultural crops and it is reasonable to assume that in 1944 the use of fertilizer may account for fully 20 percent of our total production of food, (Continued on Page 4)

Our Secret Weapon

An advertisement of an oil company makes a unique comparison between the price of gasoline and the price of other commodities, pound for pound. Consumers in Los Angeles, for example, pay 3 cents a pound for flour, at least 6 cents for potatoes, 6 1/2 cents for sugar, 8 cents for bread, 30 cents per pound and up for meat; a $45 suit costs about $11 a pound, a $6 pair of shoes about $3 a pound. Regular gasoline, exclusive of tax, by contrast, costs 2 to 2 1/2 cents per pound, depending upon where you live.

A gallon of gasoline in 1920 cost far more and was greatly inferior to that produced today. Competition between oil companies has been responsible for the improvement both in price and quality. What is true of gasoline is also true to a relative degree of every other commodity and service produced in this country. Our planes fly higher and faster than the enemies', thanks to American industrial competition. Our jeeps, tanks and armament are products of the same competitive system. Their quality and quantity are the envy of the world. The subjects of the dictators know not the meaning of the word competition. That is why they are losing the war, the bitterest competitive struggle of all time.

In the Sweat of Every Man Who Labors

A man in a far Western city who owns his home and has a family, is now earning approximately $92 weekly. His is not a temporary war job. He works in the communications industry. He is an almost invisible speck in what is so popularly called middle class America. He is a good citizen—the best type that this country can produce.

But this middle class American is worried. Every other week when he receives his check, he finds that $45 has been deducted—taxes, bonds, old age insurance, etc. He is worried because he is thrifty and that $45 deduction virtually eliminates the possibility of gradually accumulating savings, that is, savings over which he can exercise his individual judgment. The $45 taken from him every two weeks is subtracted from his check by the company for which he works. He never sees it. It goes directly to the Federal government where it is eventually turned over to various agencies to be applied to "essential" activities—among them Social Security. Money that this man labored long hours to earn, and which he has never seen, is expended by unknown officials thousands of miles away who know or care nothing about his personal affairs.

This man, this ordinary American citizen, does not begrudge in the slightest, the money given to the government from his check for taxes and bonds to fight the war. But when some bureaucrat now proposes "free" medical care, or free this or free that, under a greater paternalistic bureaucracy, he becomes more than skeptical. He sees red. He knows that every such scheme means more deductions from his dwindling check and less chance for him to shape his future on his own initiative. His money, together with that of millions of other citizens, is keeping the bureaucracy going. And someday the bureaucrat is destined to feel his wrath.

Worth Considering

"A thousand years ago, while kings and princes were quarreling over boundaries and thrones, millions of people were hungry. Today the statesmen and rulers are doing the same thing, and again millions of people are starving. Instead of now creating super-government, and instead of planning more responsibility and more authority for government we may do better to strip government down to the essentials. Then keep it out of the way of the farmers, workers, engineers, scientists and business men who can, if not interfered with, produce food and prosperity and happiness for the people of the world."—Farm Journal and Farmer's Wife.

Simplify Regulation—

Encourage Distribution

The president of the Independent Retail Meat Dealers Association of Portland, Oregon, says: "The public does not have the points for much meat after it has purchased butter and cooking fats. Meat markets are finding it quite difficult to move roasts and other higher point values. The butcher can't move his meat, and as a result the meat is backing up in the coolers. The markets are not buying from the packers, and before long this situation will back up to the farm and the farmer will not be able to sell his livestock." There is bound to be controversy about the rationing and regulation of food. But certainly in a country like the United States, there is no necessity to any one going meatless. We should constantly aim to make regulation less burdensome for the producer, the distributor and consumer. Only by that process will we encourage increased output.

TRUTHFULNESS AT ALL TIMES

LESSON TEXT—Exodus 20:16; 23:1, 7; Matthew 5:33-37; John 8:42-45.
GOLDEN TEXT—Wherefore putting away lying, speak every man truth with his neighbor: for we are members one of another.—Ephesians 4:25.

God hates all kinds of dishonesty—a fact which is emphasized by the additional commandment regarding truthfulness which is before us in this lesson.

God is truth, that is, the very essence of His nature is truth. In Him is no darkness at all (1 John 1:5). Lying or false witness therefore reveals a character opposite to God. Hence we are not surprised to find in our lesson that Satan is a liar and the father of lies, and that liars are his children.

I. The Nature of a Lie (Exod. 20:16; 23:1, 7).

The commandment against false witness brings before us one form of lying—for it has to do with perjury, that is, the telling of an untruth in court.

This is one of the worst forms of lying, because it may result in the one against whom it is practiced losing his liberty, his life or his property. It may mean the destruction of his good reputation.

It is obvious, however, that the commandment covers all forms of lying, whether in business, in social contacts, in the home, or in the church. We might do well to consider what the Bible has to say about whisperers, talebearers, backbiters, and others (see Lev. 19:16; II Cor. 12:20). A man's reputation may be as easily ruined by a whispered lie over the back fence or the luncheon table as by formal perjury in the courtroom. "Thou shalt not bear false witness" at any time, anywhere, or in any way.

II. The Practice of Lying (Matt. 5:33-37).

The people of our Lord's day (and who can say that the custom has stopped) were in the habit of telling lies and then trying to make others believe them by an oath.

They would swear by heaven, or the throne of God, or some other sacred thing, and thus try to enforce their false word by some great authority.

The liar is always under necessity of doing something—perhaps telling another lie—to cover his falsehood. When his comfort or advantage seems to be endangered because he is not believed, he brings an oath to bear upon his statement.

Jesus taught the great virtue of simple living and simple speech. A plain "yes" or "no" is usually sufficient for the situation. Qualifying words are apt to lead us astray. The life of a Christian should be so true and above board that no oath should be needed to assure one of his sincerity and honesty.

Since not all are Christians, it is a necessity that men be placed under some kind of oath or affirmation in judicial matters. Hence we need not interpret this Scripture as forbidding an oath in court.

It may be well to say a word about swearing in general. It is all too common among men, women and children. No Christian should ever be guilty of it, or that which sounds like it. We need admonition and correction at that point.

III. The Source of All Lies (John 8:42-45).

The devil is a liar, and the father of lies. Liars are members of his family. Jesus said it, "Ye are of your father the devil."

Liars had better consider their "family tree" and see how they like their spiritual father. He is lustful, murderous, and there is no truth in him (v. 44). If you belong to that family would you not like to change families and be born again into God's family?

Sadly enough the constant lying of the world seems to have infected the minds and hearts of Christians. Instead of being cleansed from this worldly defilement they carry its awful tendencies into the church. Is it not too true that gossip (which is almost always lying), false witness, the tearing down of someone's good name, is all too common in the church?

The great lie within the church, and one of Satan's prize exhibits, is the falsehood of modern religious liberalism (so-called) which is essentially a denial of real New Testament Christianity. Jesus said (v. 43) that if God is our Father we will accept Him as the Christ. The one who speaks sweet words about the example, the manhood, the leadership of the Master and who denies Him, His place as God is clearly in mind here as a follower of the father of lies.

Note that in verses 45-47 Jesus challenges His enemies to convict Him of sin or of falsehood. No one has ever been able to meet that challenge.

The claims he made for Himself as the Son of God and the Saviour of the world are plain and unmistakable. If we deny them we either make Jesus a liar, or we lie ourselves, and it is obvious that the latter is the case.

Self Sufficient

Marines have always been self sufficient. Early marine recruiting posters read "each applicant must have a good firearm, cartridge box and blanket."

Why you are asked to Conserve Electricity

Since there is no shortage of electricity, you may wonder why you are asked to conserve it.

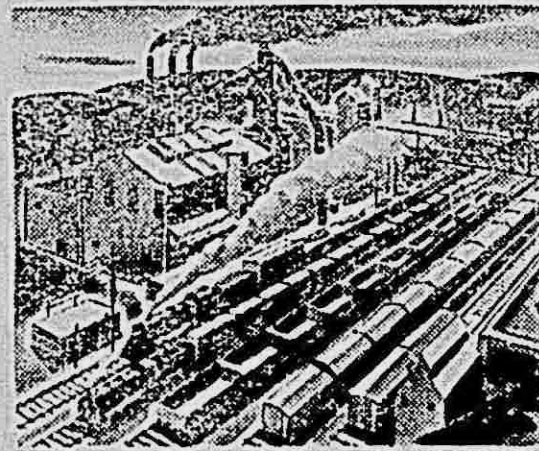

The answer is that there is a need to conserve fuel, railroad facilities, manpower and certain materials used to supply electricity. Conservation of electricity means a saving of these critical resources.

Read the story below and you'll understand where shortages exist and how you can help ease them to promote the war effort and speed the victory we are all striving for.

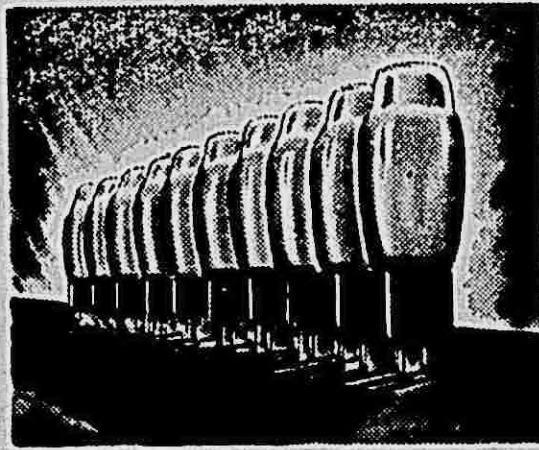

Coal—is a vital necessity for producing the arms and equipment our men need on the fighting fronts throughout the world. Coal is also a first necessity in producing electricity. By conserving electricity you conserve coal for war production.

Transportation—The nation's transportation system is heavily burdened in moving war supplies and troops. These same transportation facilities must also bring coal to our power plants. By conserving electricity you help ease the strain on transportation.

Manpower—The need for men in the armed forces has created a shortage of manpower. Conservation of electricity in commercial and industrial establishments and in the home, helps to conserve manpower for the producing and transporting of coal.

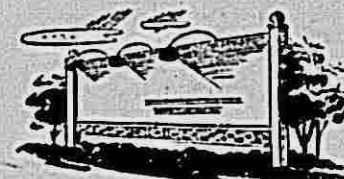

Critical materials—Every electric light bulb uses tungsten for a filament. Tungsten is also needed in great quantities for radio tubes, Radar and other equipment. By using fewer electric bulbs and using them conservatively, you help our men get more of the weapons they need.

Electricity has gone to war—don't waste it!

PUBLIC SERVICE COMPANY OF NORTHERN ILLINOIS

feed, and fiber crops. Slightly over 10,000,000 tons of fertilizer were used by American farmers last year and recently compiled statistics show that the farmer received about $6.00 return for each $1.00 spent in fertilizer. Ceiling prices for fertilizer were set at the February, 1942, level under the first OPA order affecting products used by farmers. Therefore fertilizer prices are relatively low compared to other products which the farmer buys or sells.

We feel that the fertilizer industry has done a creditable job in increasing production under wartime conditions of labor, machinery and transportation difficulties. It is now estimated that there will be at least 32 percent more nitrogen, 20 percent more superphosphate, and perhaps 5 percent less potash available than last year, thus furnishing materials enough to make 10 to 12 percent more fertilizer than was used in the year of the greatest consumption in our history.

Because of your interest in this subject I am sending you a copy of our July-September, 1943, "The Fertilizer Review," a report of fertilizer consumption by crops in the United States in 1942, and a copy, each, of our pamphlets, "Mineral Hunger in Livestock" and "Organic Matter—the Life of the Soil."

Mrs. Andrew Harrison writes from Portland, Ore., to inquire about Christmas cards and to let us know that Mrs. Olive Reading, formerly of Antioch, recently made her a week's visit. "Her three sons are in the service," Mrs. Harrison says. "Ray, the eldest, is overseas. Tell all our old friends we are still 'going.' Our lawns are green after the rain, like spring. A very lovely late fall. The hottest day was Sept. 24—92.2 degrees."

Hunting season brings with it the usual epidemic of stolen dogs which, by a strange coincidence, usually are from hunting strains. However, lots of these dogs are going to be (or have been) disappointed. Said one lady—"The joke of it all is, our dog is a very poor hunter. She's never been trained, for we've just had her as a children's pet." Said a young lad—"Sure, my dog's a good hunter—for me! He won't hunt close enough for anyone else—but he LOOKS like a good hunter—and people are all the time picking him up!"

Meanwhile, the junior members of quite a few families are upset and anxious over the welfare of their pets.

The Lady Elgin just won't stay down, at least so far as the Obs. is verses?

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES
"Soul and Body" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, November 21.

The Golden Text was, "Know ye not that your body is the temple of the Holy Ghost which is in you, which ye have of God, and ye are not your own?" (1 Cor. 6: 19).

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "Know ye not that ye are the temple of God, and that the Spirit of God dwelleth in you? If any man defile the temple of God, him shall God destroy: for the temple of God is holy, which temple ye are" (1 Cor. 3: 16, 17).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "Soul is the substance, Life, and intelligence of man, which is individualized, but not in matter. Soul can never reflect anything inferior to Spirit" (p. 477).

Search for Oil
Britain's only previous intensive search for free-flowing oil lasted from 1918 until 1921. Limited licenses to search and drill anywhere were then issued to private contractors for the first time. A dozen deep test borings resulted. The first of these, at Hardstoft in the Midlands, became England's record producer by averaging seven barrels a day for several years. The others were unproductive.

The Small Electron
Electrons, parts of the atom and about the smallest particles of matter known to science, require 30, followed by 27 ciphers, to weigh an ounce. They are so small that three million can rest on the point of a pin. Six, followed by 18 ciphers, electrons flow each second through the filament of a 100-watt incandescent lamp to keep it burning.

School Days

When our fighters fly at 400 miles an hour with a Jap Zero or a Messerschmidt on their tails there isn't much time for cogitation so the Army and the Navy show as many motion pictures of actual dog fights and air battles as possible to our student fliers.

Pictures of trainer flights, bombing flights and flights by fighters are all a part of the routine for our student pilots and must be drilled into them just as it is necessary for us to remind ourselves daily of the necessity to buy an extra $100 Bond in September. U. S. Treasury Department

U. of Illinois Is Third
Nationally in Enrollment

The University of Illinois ranks third in the nation in full-time students, according to a study by President Raymond Walters of the University of Cincinnati. The study is based on figures for the first semester of the 1942-43 academic year. Illinois' enrollment of 11,294 full-time students was exceeded only by California with 18,364 and Minnesota with 11,859. Walters' statistics from 667 approved universities and colleges of the nation included 33 in the State of Illinois. These 33 had a total enrollment of 46,067.

The University of Illinois College of Medicine in Chicago is one of two schools in the nation giving courses in neurological surgery to army doctors.

Commercial Planes
Before Pearl Harbor 434 planes were in commercial operation within and beyond continental United States. Of this number, 358 were in service within the country, 10 were in transoceanic service, 6 were in Hawaii, 7 were in Alaska, and 53 were operating between this country and Latin America.

Timely Fertilizing
Timely fertilizing will greatly reduce the crab-grass nuisance. Since this grass is such a pest and since it is an annual summer grass, one should fertilize his lawn in September or March. In this way the normal lawn grasses will grow and flourish in fall and spring and be better able to compete with the rapid summer growth of crab-grass.

Diamond Country
Diamonds are found over a wide extent of Brazil—in the states of Matto Grosso, Minas Geraes and Goiaz, and in the territory in the north near the Venezuelan border. They are usually panned out of stream beds.

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS

Fighting See-Saws in Southern Italy As Nazis Prepare for Allied Landing; Reds Capture Important Rail Lines; Food Subsidy War Continues to Rage

(EDITOR'S NOTE: When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of Western Newspaper Union's news analysis and not necessarily of this newspaper.)
Released by Western Newspaper Union.

South Pacific—This picture shows some of the devastation U. S. bombers have caused in Japan's big shipping and air base of Rabaul, feeder point for enemy forces operating in New Guinea and the Solomons. In a recent attack, fighter planes from aircraft carriers protected land-based bombers in their assaults on Rabaul.

Their footing on the southwest shore of Bougainville secure, U. S. troops were being re-enforced for their push inland against the 40,000 Japs reportedly clinging to their last major stronghold in the Solomons. The U. S. brought fighter planes into the action to bomb and machine gun enemy positions hewn into the jungle.

Since Pearl Harbor, a naval spokesman reported 67 U. S. warships sunk; one battleship, four aircraft carriers, nine cruisers, 39 destroyers and 14 submarines.

ITALY:

Fighting See-Saws

Fighting in the mountains seen-sawed in southern Italy as the Germans cleared sections of the west coast to the north in anticipation of Allied landings from fleets which they reported were massed in Naples.

Bitter fighting marked the mountain warfare in the Mignano region, where the Germans were guarding the pass leading into the level plain stretching approximately 80 miles to the north to Rome.

One U. S. company alone used 500 hand grenades in the close, rough encounters along the rocky slopes. Anchored in six-foot-deep tunnels securely thatched with heavy timbers and sand bags, the Nazis held strong positions, relatively secure from dive-bombings or artillery fire, but sometimes open to attacks from the side or rear.

SUBSIDIES:

Fight On

With other branches of agriculture, representatives of the livestock trade spearheaded the attack against the administration's subsidy program before the senate agriculture committee. On November 1, President Roosevelt had called on congress to continue government payments to encourage production and reduce consumer costs through retail price reductions, announcing the program now runs the U. S. 600 million dollars annually.

Frank Boice of the American Livestock association told the senate committee subsidies for reducing retail meat prices will save the consumer barely $2 annually. P. O. Wilson of the joint livestock committee declared cattle producers were never consulted on establishment of meat price ceilings.

Opposition to subsidies also was registered by the Grocery Manufacturers of America, representative of 85 per cent of the nation's processed food producers. The organization stated that price control of its products on a subsidy basis was unsound because the cost would have to be repaid in taxation, plus administration expense of the program.

RUSSIA:

Near Poland

Slowly, Russian troops were bending the center of the Nazi battle line back to the pre-war Polish border, with the Reds no less than 50 miles distant from the old boundary at two points west of Kiev.

In addition, the Russ were snapping important rail lines hooking up Nazi forces in the north and south. To the south, the Germans reported 500,000 Russ attacking at Krivoi Rog, big mine center where the Nazis stopped the Reds' surge through the Ukraine when it threatened to trap huge forces in the Dnieper river bend.

In Washington, D. C., it was announced Russian armies had been aided by the lend-lease of 6,500 planes and more than 3,000 tanks in the two years ended September 30.

HIGHLIGHTS . . . in the week's news

SACRIFICE: Crewmen of a Flying Fortress in England saved the town of Wargrave from heavy damage at the cost of their own lives. They guided the plane, which was just taking off on a raid, over the rooftops, and jettisoned their bombs in the river, just before the plane exploded. One man parachuted to safety, but the others were killed.

REWARD: An 11-year-old New York office boy, earning $5 a week, found a pouch containing some jewels. They were diamond rings and pins valued at $115,000. He received nine crisp $100 bills, and two fifties.

HELP WANTED: For the first time in the history of the anthracite coal industry, mine operators are advertising for mine workers in the newspapers.

Farm Speculation

To prevent "destructive speculation," Senator Guy Gillette, Iowa, has introduced legislation under which a seller would pay a 10 per cent resale transfer tax on the purchase price of farm land, when the property has been acquired after the passage of the act and resold within a year. The legislation would expire two years after the war. Under another plan, Gillette said, profit on a transaction would be absorbed by a tax ranging up to 100 per cent.

Guy Gillette

NATIONAL GRANGE:

Goss Re-elected

Meeting in Grand Rapids, Mich., for its 77th annual convention, the National Grange re-elected Albert Goss, Washington, D. C., as master.

Goss highlighted the convention by calling for congressional revision of the present parity formula, which, he asserted, fails to include farm labor costs; wrongly assumes that farm income for the base period of 1909-14 was in proper proportion to non-farm income; is based upon price rather than income, and is obsolete because the relative value of commodities has changed greatly in recent years.

Also elected were David Agans, Three Bridges, N. H., overseer; W. G. Armstrong, Niles, Mich., treasurer; Harry C. Caton, Coshocton, Ohio, secretary; and Mrs. Bessie Seebert, Chickah, Okla.; Mrs. Blanche D. Newsom, Columbus, Ind.; Mrs. Alice Pearson, Miami, Fla.; and Eugene A. Eckert, Mascoutah, Ill., national committeemen.

WORLD RELIEF:

Study Financing

While President Roosevelt called upon congress to authorize appropriations to finance America's share of the United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation administration, the UNRRA considered various proposals for raising funds to carry out the program during its meetings in Atlantic City, N. J.

Saying it is hoped "a small fraction of the national income" of the contributing member nations of the UNRRA will be sufficient for its work, President Roosevelt defined the organization's purpose as an endeavor "to help the liberated peoples to help themselves, so that they may have the strength to undertake the task of rebuilding their destroyed homes, their ruined factories, and their plundered farms."

UNRRA studied three proposals for raising funds: 1. Assessment of member nations on the basis of per capita income; 2. Member nations' contributions of 1 per cent of their national income; 3. Assessments against foreign trade figures of the member nations.

U. S. PLANES:

'Wings on Guns'

So well are U. S. fighting planes armed, that it can be said American engineers are designing guns and putting wings on them.

With that statement, Army Air Force Technician Col. Frank C. Wolfe listed 10 reasons for U. S. planes' tremendous firepower.

Among the reasons were hydraulic and electrically operated gun turrets, with multiple gun installations, increased firepower for nose and tail positions of all types of bombers; improved computing sights for all gun positions; fighter gun sights which extend present sighting ranges; improvements in armor plate and bullet resistant glass, remote control and fire control systems.

No less than 70 types of aircraft are being tested at army fields, Colonel Wolfe said, with approved types sent to battle zones for additional tryouts before being finally put into production.

Hat in Ring

Three times governor of Ohio, John W. Bricker formally announced his candidacy for the Republican nomination for President. During his tenure as Ohio's chief executive, the state's debt has been cut 22 million dollars, and a 21 million dollar post-war building and highway fund has been set up from surplus. Announcing his candidacy, Bricker said: "We must keep ourselves strong, liberty-loving, self-governing and use that power and influence throughout the world to bring about better international relations and to prevent the deadly destruction of war."

John Bricker

BULL:

A prize Holstein bull sold for $24,000 at a national blue ribbon sale, the highest price since 1919, when King Sylvia went for $106,000. The highly valued sire is Carnation Madcap Supreme. He is 16 months old. A cow sold for $10,000, next highest price at the sale. An average of $3,200 was established after the first 20 head were sold.

The champion Hereford bull, T. Royal Rupert 60th, has been insured for $25,000, largest policy ever taken out on a bull.

Some figures for Ostriches!

In the Sicilian campaign, part of our losses in the material employed were as follows:

- We lost 8% of our medium tanks.
- We lost nearly half of our 57-mm. guns.
- We lost 33 1/2% of our 75-mm. gun carriages.
- We lost 22% of our 105-mm. howitzer carriages.
- We lost 54% of our 37-mm. gun carriages.
- We lost an undisclosed number of ships, landing barges, airplanes.
- We lost a vast quantity of collateral material like food, clothing, things like 1,100 miles of copper telephone wire.
- We lost all this in a month-long minor campaign that was in every sense of the word a complete victory for us.

There's just no use in trying to dodge this fact:

Somebody's got to pay for that stuff we lost. Somebody's got to pay for the new stuff that replaced it. Somebody's got to pay for the infinitely larger amount of stuff that's going to be used—and part of it lost—in Italy, in France, in the Balkans, in Norway, in India, in a lot of places.

It's no use kidding ourselves. That "somebody" is Uncle Sam—and we've got to lend him the money to do it by buying War Bonds. There's no cheap way out—no easy way out—there's just nothing we can do except to keep on working and buying more and more Bonds till this War is won.

And the harder we pitch in right now—and use more Bonds we buy—the quicker that will be.

KEEP ON BACKING THE ATTACK!

News of the Boys

we are always so busy right after changing stations. If you haven't been notified as yet, you can get my new address off the envelope.

"As you know, I'm taking my Pilot Pre-Flight training here in San Antonio before going to Primary flight training. The going is plenty rough, but it will be well worth while to get those wings. We had ten hours of flying time at Michigan State college, which is just enough to make you very much interested in it.

"The toughest part is radio code, because they have such a limited time to teach it to us. We have to pass an eight-word-a-minute code check before we can graduate from here. In primary we go as high as 14 words per minute.

"The Navigator is also plenty tough, but we will be learning it all the way through our Pilot training, which will make it a whole lot easier. Of course, if you end up on a bomber the Navigator can take care of all that.

"Of course you have to make the grade before you start worrying about such things. I see Bob Petersen is stationed at Enid and hope I get a chance to meet up with him while we are in Cadets. It is swell to be able to locate some of the boys by their addresses in the News."

John Thomas Runyard, AS, is in training at Great Lakes.

A/C R. G. Phillips is at Santa Ana, Calif.

Pvt. Robert E. Horton, who entered the service last May, is now "somewhere in England."

Lt. Joseph O. Hucker is stationed in New York.

Cpl. Leith J. Eppers, U. S. Marine Corps, is at Cherry Point, N. C.

From E. A. Anderson, EM 3/c—"I wish to thank you for sending the Antioch News to me the past 18 months. It has always been a source of home reading and helps dull the feeling of loneliness we all have for home most of the time.

"I imagine you fellows have your hands full keeping track of us fellows and our constant change of addresses. I myself have been moved around quite a bit and neglected to notify you of that in the past. I'll be more prompt in the future.

"Recently I was transferred and sent to school here in Boston, so I would appreciate your sending the News here. This is my second term in electrical school since I enlisted, having come here last May and graduated in September. I feel fortunate in having the opportunity of further schooling and hope to make the most of it that's possible."

Greetings are sent from the Pacific area by Pfc John W. Horan, who says—"It is really nice here. I live in a house with four other fellows. We have a stove and an ice box. There are a bowling alley, a show house, and a day room to write letters in, with a lot of pool tables and all other kinds of games that anyone can play. I am sending you my full address—and that is all, except that I am fine."

Sgt. O. Philip Palaske is now at Florence, S. C.

T/S William E. Hook returned last Wednesday to Fort Ord, Calif., after spending an 11-day furlough with his mother, Mrs. William Hook of Lake Villa, and his sister, Mrs. Howard Sherwood, Waukegan. Sgt. Hook's hobbies are hunting and fishing. While here he enjoyed some pheasant hunting, getting his limit the first day.

Pvt. Charles J. Williamson is at Shreveport, La.

Helena, Ark., is the station to which Pvt. Edward A. Knickelbein has been transferred from Maxwell Field, Ala.

Harmon S. Garwood, S 2/c is attending navy hospital corps school at San Diego, Calif.

Thomas Radtke has been transferred to the navy air station at Astoria, Oregon.

Camp Ritchie, Md., is the new address of Lt. George C. Schmidt.

Aviation Cadet Robert H. Pedersen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred J. Pedersen of Antioch, has completed the primary flight course at Cimarron Field, Oklahoma City, and is enrolled in the nine-week basic flying course at Enid Army Air Field, Okla.

"It is a treat to wear trousers with pockets in them again," writes Ben E. Noble, Chief Motor Mechanist, who has been in the service for the past 18 months and is at present in New York awaiting re-assignment. He received his chief's rating recently.

Lt. (j.g.) E. H. Kaufmann is acting as personnel officer at a navy operating base, according to word received from the Pacific theater of action.

Cpl. Newell C. Jones writes an interesting letter from the northern Pacific area, mentioning that life at his station "has been no bed of roses," but that is has its more pleasurable aspects.

A/C Robert B. Burke is attending Yale university, New Haven, Conn.

Pfc Earl H. Brixen sends greetings from the U. S. Marine corps at San Diego, and notifies the News of a change of his address.

Pvt. Ervin Barnstable has joined the paratroopers and is now at Fort Benning, Ga., according to information received from his mother, Mrs. Ervin Barnstable, Lake Villa.

Pvt. Robert Bolton is in service overseas, receiving his mail via New York APO.

Pvt. William H. McMurdo is at Camp Wolters, Texas.

Pfc Andrew Thierry Schaitz is overseas in the Atlantic area of operations. He is the son of M. Schaitz, Spring Grove.

T-4 Rufus E. Hamilton, son of R. E. Hamilton of Spring Grove, is in foreign service in the Atlantic theater of action.

Ralph E. Gussarson, son of Hugo Gussarson, Route 2, has enrolled in the navy V-12 program and is now training at the University of Notre Dame, in Indiana. Pfc Otto H. Gussarson is overseas, in Italy.

"Just a note of thanks to the folks back home for sending me the Antioch News," writes Sid Card, HIA 1/c. "Newspapers from home are about second to letters and when we get them they sure go through the hands before the next issue arrives.

"When a guy reads all about the goings on, etc., back home, he sort of stops to think a few minutes. Often I've done the same and wondered what it would be like to be home even for a few days.
